What's New In?

A program that was designed to defragment system memory for Windows. As soon as you launch this program and click "OK" on the dialogue box that pops up asking you to press "Continue", the AntMem program is installed on your system and the defragmentation is about to begin. As soon as you click "OK" on the dialogue box informing you that the AntMem program is about to defragment your system memory, the AntMem program installs itself on your system and begins to defragment your system memory. AntMem is not a defragmenter, so don't expect a high defragmenting success rate, it will only be used for memory recovery.
